Why Study the Subject/what students Like about it

- The Business course provides the basis for our students (the next wave of entrepreneurs and employees) to set up their own businesses and not only understand a business' place in the business world (as a competitor and driving force of the economy), but their own place within the business world (as an employee, customer, voter, and member of the community).
- Business is an engaging, interesting and constantly evolving subject. Business is everywhere and can be applied to any topical issue or debate. The course will provide the key knowledge of what businesses are, how they are set up and run, how they grow, how they interact and compete and reasons why businesses succeed or fail.
