Snappy Lesson® Videos with decodable stories

These are child-friendly videos that enable active participation in classic Snappy Lessons® within the Sound Discovery® programme. Most lessons last about 20-30 minutes, but the early lessons are shorter.

Adult support is recommended initially until the child is accustomed to the format and able to pause the video if needed. Some children will work faster than others, but the pace is kept 'snappy' in the spirit of this method of teaching. Answers are modelled at every stage to enable success.

Each video lesson covers both reading and writing and ends with a short decodable story with a pointer to encourage sounding and blending. The story is also available in .pdf form to download and print off (preferably in booklet format) for additional reading practice. These are ideal for group reading in class or to send home – just print off the number needed.

Three sample lessons and printable booklets are available free of charge on the links below:
